Washington Township's community hospital may cost $118,000 more than originally estimated, Designer LaRue Sorensen told directors here Tuesday night.

Sorensen said the doctor-sponsored decision to build a separate

HOUSE-NUMBER, STREET-NAME CONTRACT LET

First step in getting Alameda County's rural areas on an orderly basis as far as house numbers and street names are concerned was taken last week by the Board of Supervisors.

The Board authorized a contract with the Redwood City firm of Hahn, Wise & Associates to begin surveys of existing street names and house numbers.

The four-month survey will cost $4200, the firm said. It was recommended by County Administrator Edwin Howell.

Lack of uniformity in street names has long plagued Washington Township residents. It also has blocked orderly numbering of homes, making them hard to locate for visitors.

At election time it is a cause of precinct confusion, since officials cannot tell from present addresses where voters live.

On Tuesday, the Niles Chamber of Commerce renewed its demand for action on the house numbering. Baine Leask said it has been "over two years, and not much activity" on the part of the county.

Dr. T. C. Wilson commented the taxpayers "are paying a big price now for something that should have been done years ago by county employees."

Peter D. Juhl, PG&E manager, said fire chiefs give out the numbers in Decoto and Newark, postmasters in Niles, Irvington, Centerville and Mission San Jose. In Irvington, he added, a conflict with subdividers has led to establishments "of two Fourth Streets, one off Driscoll Road and one near Cooks Road."

He warned chaos will result from new subdivisions without systematic street names and numbers.

MINISTER WILL LEAVE IRVINGTON

After four years' service in the Community Presbyterian Church of Irvington the Rev. Cecil Rhoades is returning to Pennsylvania, his native state, to serve two churches of his denomination in the towns of Bruin and Petrolia.

During Mr. Rhoades' ministry, changes in the church included:

(1) New Sunday School building; (2) new lawn; (3) new organ; (4) the building painted throughout; (5) new windows in the sanctuary.

Rev. Rhoades is a member of the Niles Rotary Club and has served his community as Cub master and the township as the Secretary Treasurer of the Washington Township Ministerial Association. He has been chaplain of the Masonic Home in Decoto for over a year and a half. He leaves August 31.

NILES, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 19, 1954

No. 33

ABOUT NOVEMBER 1

Door-to-Door Mail Service For Niles!

"City" mail delivery service for Niles is contemplated on or about November 1, 1954, it was announced today by Postmaster Edward E. Enos.

He added that to establish service it will be necessary for homes and stores to install suitable mail receptacles, door slots, and similar equipment.

The service will be the second of its type in the Township. Centerville started city delivery last year. Said Enos:

"City delivery service, Route 1, foot service, will cover Niles proper with two deliveries a day on First Street business area. Route 2, mounted service, will cover Niles Canyon, Canyon Heights, Elsworth Tract, Highway No. 9 from Sullivan Underpass to Morrison Canyon Road, Morrison Avenue, Morrison Canyon Road, Cherry Lane, Walnut Way, Overacker Avenue, and Fremont Avenue to Santos Road. A Rural Carrier will continue to serve outlying area."

"Patrons who have a house number should advise correspondents of the number and street address. Those who lack a house number and street address will be assigned one by the Postoffice."

'CITY TALK' BY CENTERVILLE IRKS NEWARK CHIEF

"Centerville is getting hot about this incorporation issue again, and if we don't watch out we'll be gobbled up. Centerville's city limits will probably reach about to the middle of the Dumbarton bridge."

With these words, Newark Fire Chief Joe Pashote last week called for revival of the Newark chamber of commerce committee for the study of cityhood.

At the chamber meeting, Pashote read a newspaper clipping concerning action of 32 Glenmoor Gardens home owners requesting annexation to the Centerville fire district. He contended that loss of Glenmoor to the Newark fire district would mean a loss of $300,000 in assessed valuation to the Newark district.

There are 32 homes in the area, but future plans promises construction of more than 90.

Chamber President Art Cotton agreed to prod the reappointed incorporation committee to answer a request of the Newark Women's Improvement Club that the chamber committee work with that organization in a study of cityhood.

The issue was rejected by major Newark industries last year.

CHARGE DISMISSED

Maria Leyva, operator of a tavern at 505 6th St., Decoto, won dismissal Tuesday of charges she illegally permitted dancing in the establishment.

C. OF C. OPPOSES SHOP CENTER

Members of Centerville's chamber of commerce voted Monday to back Planning Commission opposition to a new shopping center proposed west of town.

The motion made by LeRoy Brown was to support the commission stand against "scattering" the present business district by granting commercial zoning to a San Leandro developer at Thornton and Blacow avenues.

Centerville Chamber representatives will be on hand for the final hearing on zoning the town today (Thursday) before the Board of Supervisors.

Brown said the new center "would pull the heart out" of present shopping sections in both Centerville and Newark.

Sheriff Aide Says 'Curfew' Helps Curb Young Crime

Township law-enforcement officers are alert to prevent "rat-pack" outbreaks by juvenile delinquents, Captain Richard E. Condon of the Centerville substation told the Rotary Club last week.

"There has been the threat of youthful gangs here for years," Capt. Condon told a luncheon audience in the International Kitchen. He cited sporadic outbreaks—strongarm robberies and threats against witnesses by organized mobs in the north end of the Township. Then he exhibited weapons taken from the mobs.

"But we're gradually getting it whipped," the veteran officer assured his listeners. He said a prime aid in curbing juvenile crime is the county's new anti-loitering law. Capt. Condon explained it works like this:

1. Troublesome youngsters under 18 who are found loitering after dark on the streets or in public places are warned by deputies, and their names are recorded.

2. On the second instance of loitering, the youngsters are taken to the substation. Their parents are summoned and required to sign acknowledgement that they too have been warned.

3. On the third occasion, the loiterers are taken to Juvenile Hall, and the parents are cited to appear in Juvenile Court. There, the judge may charge the parents with a misdemeanor for allowing their children to roam unattended.

"For the first time, this makes the parent responsible," Capt. Condon declared.

Cooperation of Township civic, fraternal and religious groups with the deputies has been "outstanding," the officer asserted. He commented that all realize the necessity of good environment "in the home, at school, and in the church" to develop a young person's character properly.

Capt. Condon traced the rise of law enforcement in Washington Township, from the days when two constables existed on the fees they earned off arrests, to the present time, when 16 patrolmen in three cars are on watch for malefactors.

In an aside, the captain informed his listeners about one service the substation performs: the so-called "vacation house-check." Homeowners leaving for any length of time are entitled to phone the sheriff's office, here and request a daily check-up on their empty house in their absence.

Statistically, Washington Township is growing crime-wise as well as in population, the speaker said. When the substation was established in 1951, crime reports averaged 50 per month. Now they average 400. However most offenses are of a minor nature, he added. Felonies average five per month, and 45 percent — a phenomenally high average — are cleared up by arrests or other means.

Deputies must learn typing proficiency, Capt. Condon disclosed, so that they can type their own reports without the office having to hire clerical help.

Two talented children from Alvarado, Elaine and Loren Pinto, entertained the Rotarians in a musical interlude sponsored by Walter Oakley Jr. Dr. Tom Wilson was program chairman.

DECOTO 'DUSTER' IS POWER BUSTER

A cropduster plane swished low across Decoto Road early Monday, brushed two power lines together, and cut off power to Niles and Decoto for almost one hour.

The 'duster' narrowly escaped electrocution, according to PG&E Manager Peter D. Juhl, who added services was restored about 9 a.m.

MERCHANT GROUP READIES BYLAWS

Methods of incorporation were discussed at last Thursday's meeting of the fledgling Centerville Merchants' Association.

Attorney LeRoy Brown outlined steps by which the organization may incorporate. Named to a committee to study proposed bylaws and report at a meeting on August 26 were Leonard Miller, George Kolberg, Stich Edwards, and Dr. John Austin.

CONTRACTORS CHARGED

Tommy Coleman and Carl Procher, Oakland labor contractors, were charged with petty theft and business-code violations this week when State agents posing as bean pickers assertedly trapped them giving short-weight. The two will appear before Judge E. A. Quaresima next Tuesday.

Trophy signifies local unit made greatest progress in past year of all 25 artillery batteries in this part of State. Capt. Brackett recently assumed command from Capt. Joe Beaudin, who was transferred to Sacramento after building unit from less than 20 to more than 70 men. (WTN Photo)

SUBSCRIPTION: $7.50 A MONTH

Parking Lot Lease Okayed By Centerville Chamber Monday

The way was paved for public off-street parking in Centerville last Monday when Chamber of Commerce members voted to proceed with the project.

A lease will be signed on a Y-shaped lot existing both on Main and Fremont as soon as enough merchants contract for subscriptions ranging between $7.50 and $3 a month, according to LeRoy Brown, chamber secretary.

Businessmen on Main Street between Kirkishes, Center Street, the Ford agency and the Postoffice will be asked to pay the maximum of $7.50, as will those on Fremont as far as the PG&E office. Others in town will be solicited for $5 a month, while outlying stores will be scaled down to $3.

The fee includes the privilege of using the walls of nearby buildings for a 3x5-foot advertising sign, Brown added.

The parking lot, to be cleared at Chamber expense, will accommodate more than 50 cars under present plans. The owner will tear down an old house fronting on Main Street.

A proviso of the $125-per-month lease is that it doesn't become effective until enough merchants underwrite it.

Phil Willis, chairman of a committee which handled negotiations, said he believes plenty will sign up.

WORK WILL START ON MISSION SCHOOL

Trustees announced this week that construction is slated to start in November on Mission San Jose's new 12-room grammar school.

The building is expected to be finished by next June. Double sessions in most lower grades will be the order until then. The present small school was built in 1912 and will house more than 300 children this fall.

COMMUTER PLEA

Backing their neighbors in Newark, Centerville's Chamber of Commerce members voted Monday to ask the State to extend commute-book dates on the Dumbarton Bridge past the present 30-day limit.

SEEK TO FORM 'LITTLE LEAGUE'

Township businessmen and civic groups are urged to attend a meeting next Tuesday aimed at forming a Township "Little League" for baseball-minded boys next spring.

Louis Leimbach of Decoto this week extended the invitation at several public meetings. The confab is set for 8 p.m. in the old Decoto Firehouse.

Leimbach said a representative of the Hayward Little League will be on hand to explain its operation.

He added that on a Township-wide basis, Little League rules would be uniform and that teams of boys aged 9 through 12 could be raised in each town.

Newark launched a Little League of its own this summer, winning a playoff against Washington Manor, 7-4 on August 7.

AROUND TOWN

Big news in our town last week was contained in this life-saving headline — "S.P. to Install Signal." The Chamber of Commerce shows some headway in its effort to make some of our worse crossings safer for vehicular traffic. The S.P. will install a warning signal at Cherry and Baine.

The Southern Pacific is in the public eye — in a different way. We continually lend our ears to complaints of trains blocking the Thornton Avenue crossing for long periods of time. Most of the complaints start with a single question... why the blank, blank doesn't some one do something about the blankety, blank blank trains blocking the highway? The train switching is necessary and Newark, being the hub of the railroad's activity, will always be troubled with this problem. But perhaps the Southern Pacific would be sympathetic to an inquiry from an official "complaining" organization.

Today we are baffled by the latest feminine fashion the French designer, Christian Dior is foisting upon the gullible femmes. We have always been great admirers of the "front d'lor" and hate to see things batted down like shutters in a snow storm. Pity the poor gals. How are they going to explain "where it all went?"

Setting our sights a little higher... we hope that Robert Manley of Robert's Beauty Salon, Centerville, recovers completely and soon from his recent heart attack. It will take a few months of rest, at best, and meanwhile... straight hair is fashionable. Send a card to Robert Manley, 1091 Harmony Drive, Hayward. Being remembered is the finest tonic for the convalescent.

We found Mrs. V. C. Scott beaming with delight over the arrival of her newest grandson, James Claude Scott, who made his appearance on August 12 weighing 7 pounds and 11 ounces. In between visits with his proud grandmother, James will be living with his brother, Randy in the J. B. Scott home in San Lorenzo.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hicks and daughters, Janice and Shirley Ann of Norcat, Kansas are enjoying a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Pool. Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Pool are sisters and have been separated for seven years so they have quite a store of conversation material to use while the Pools show them some California hospitality.

The Bohannons are tuned in to Channel 3. Performing the smartest little tricks with her tiny fingers and toes is the star of the show, baby Susan Marie, who "went on the air" at San Jose Hospital on August 10. Her first performance was the weigh-in where she sent the needle up to 8 pounds and 3 ounces. Now that she has arrived at her permanent station with Leo and Marge Bohannon, little Susan will get support from her co-stars, Leona and Dale.

Sandra McCullough celebrated her eighth birthday on the eighth of August with a gay outdoor party. Young guests were: Cathy Terra, Barbara and Claudia Mello, Kenney, Jenny and Joan Vargas, Margaret and Jerry Kelly, Cheryl Martin, Terry Barthe, Patty and Judy Cline, Karen Costa, Leroy Kilmer, Marvin Middaugh, Evelyn and Kenny Frias. The postman gave Sandra a thrill when he delivered a gift from her grandmother, Mrs. J. E. McCullough, all the way from Newbern, Tennessee.

This little gem just possibly may make more sense to you than it does to us. Last week Vera Reichmuth celebrated her birthday in real Swiss style... with servings of "buttons" too. They all look so healthy we just were wondering...

A quick overnight trip to Reno was a midweek pleasure for Orvil and Mary Haynes. Their partners in this adventure into the forest of one-armed bandits: Clifford and Bernice White of Niles.

Tony and Mary Souza joined Ernest and Mary Souza of Benecia (similarities are confusing and we were last week) for a "night out" in San Francisco. While there they attended the Ice Follies.

Bob and Polly Milan and their daughters, Michelle and Maureen spent their vacation seeing some of the beauty spots of California. Yosemite, Carmel and the Monterey peninsula fall in that category and the Milans "fell in line" with thousands of others enjoying the same scenery. The Milans were at home when Mr. and Mrs. Bill Summer and children, Sharon, Carol and Billy and David Edwards of Norwalk ("missent to Norwalk"), parked their trailer-home on Olive Street. This was reunion time for Bill and Bob who were buddies back in Cleveland and hadn't seen each other in sixteen years.

Three happy young ladies returned home last week after enjoying two weeks at the Pythian Youth Camp at Kings Canyon National Park. Jennie Phippen and Carol Bernardo were guests of the Century Lodge of the Knights of Pythias while Mary McCoy had her two weeks at camp provided by the Kiwanis Club.

John Kellerman took Tommy Phippen with him when he drove down to Los Angeles last week for a few days visit with his brother.

Another young lad who had a treat was Don Ed Haynes who spent a week down in Modesto as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Eric West.

Joe and Libby Milani and daughters, Amelia and Bernadette enjoyed a relaxful week in the peaceful surroundings of Coulterville.

Jack and Frances MacGregor and boys enjoyed a two week mountain vacation at Blair's on the Feather River. MacGregor returned with buoyed spirits and feeling full of vim and vigor — then he sat down at his desk at the Newark School and remembered his headaches (about 850 of them) as Superintendent. Aspirin won't help but the new school will.

We certainly have a lot of happy couples to salute this week as marital bliss gets a big boost with this list of wedding and anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Silva top the list and rightfully so as they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Tuesday, August 17. Their 50th will be properly marked by another celebration when all their family can be present for a party befitting the joyous occasion.

Jack and Edith Slater did their "I do-ing" back in 1934 when the country was being pulled out of the depression rut. In their 20 years of happy life together the Slaters have accumulated a store of memories over which they could reminisce last Monday.

Brother, do I ever have to eat my words of sarcasm regarding my Jackie and his deer hunting, for right off the bat Jack got his nice deer, the first to do so this season.

Thought we told you to go slow there, Tony Marshall! Certainly sorry to hear Tony had a set back and now really must take it easy.

Also sorry to learn Rufus Lewis was painfully injured but feel encouraged as at least he is now able to hobble around on crutches.

Atta girl, Elva Brayevech! Now you're using your head by putting Pete to work while you take a well deserved vacation to Santa Cruz.

Sure good to see Harold Millard back in his Mission bakery after a vacation throughout the northern part of state, plus Nevada.

Evelyn Lindly received many happy greetings this week having celebrated her birthday.

Nice going Ann Williams, hear you let Molly take over while you take off to San Francisco to enjoy the Ice Follies.

Mission friends of Manuel Silva were indeed sorry to learn of his wife's death and extend our sincere sympathy to him.

Last Tuesday the R. R. Whitesides had as their luncheon guests Miss Edith Bergmann and Miss Lillian Rodriguez. Following luncheon they toured the Township showing off all the new improvements. Miss Bergmann, former Missionite, was much interested in the development of the new home subdivision, especially here in Mission.

Proposed County Fire Law Goes To Supervisors Soon

By STUART NIXON

The proposed county fire ordinance will affect every resident of Washington Township if it is passed this fall.

The ordinance was promoted by the County Firemen's Association to fill a gap which exists in virtually no other California county.

At present, Alameda County's rural areas have no regulations governing storage of inflammables, or burning of rubbish. Adoption of an official ordinance can put teeth in common-sense safety regulations, it is believed by such experts as the Board of Fire Underwriters.

Joe Pashote, firechief of Newark, is chairman of a county-wide committee to get such an ordinance passed by the Supervisors. A proposed law was drawn up several weeks ago by Deputy Dist. Atty. Douglas Dunning.

"There are a few bugs to iron out of it," Pashote says. "But we expect to be able to present it to the Supervisors in a couple of weeks."

Pashote says a final conference between rural firechiefs will be held shortly. Some of the chiefs had to be won over to a workable ordinance, he admits. Says Pashote:

"One of them even wanted regulations written in which would compel permits to build fires in backyard barbecue pits."

But most of the chiefs are now in accord, and the law appears to have clear sailing — at least up to the Supervisors. Those worthies must call a public hearing, before it can be adopted, and what that will bring is anybody's guess.

Provisions of the proposed ordinance are, briefly:

1. It empowers the local firechief to enter any premises for inspection purposes "at any reasonable hour."

2. It gives chiefs the power to grant variances to the ordinance.

3. It gives them power to issue warnings to violators, which if disregarded can mean arrest. (The property-owner in all cases has the right of appeal to the commissioners.)

4. The chief issues burning permits. These must be obtained by industries or individuals for any open fire (under a change slated to be made in the proposed ordinance.)

5. Regulated are storage of inflammables — gasoline, gases, chemicals, etc. Prohibited are the sale or possession of fireworks (barring sparklers and cap-pistols) except at public displays; also inflammable balloons.

6. The burning of rubbish on streets is subject to permit, and a firechief may prohibit all open fires if he decides atmospheric conditions — wind or dry heat — create a hazard.

7. Blasting permits are required. So are "no smoking" signs around combustibles in factories. Landowners must cut a 10-foot firebreak around dry grain or weeds; and hay, etc., cannot be stored "where it constitutes a fire hazard."

8. Flameproofing of combustible window-dressings in stores is prescribed. Candles on Christmas trees are prohibited.

9. Self-service gas stations are outlawed.

Pashote adds that although some district firechiefs have been issuing permits informally for the past few years, only Newark and Cherryland, in the unincorporated areas, have laws governing fires and burning.

MRS. DUFFEY HEADS CRUSADE'S HOME CAMPAIGN HERE

Mrs. Byrde Duffey of Niles has accepted the residential chairmanship for Washington Township's United Crusade drive to start October 18.

More than 500 job openings are available in the communities of Irvington, Newark, Centerville, Decoto, Alvarado, Hillview Crest, Warm Springs, Mission San Jose and Niles. "Although these jobs carry no salary," says Mrs. Duffey, "the opportunity for community service and personal satisfaction is very rewarding."

Urgently needed at present are chairmen for each of Washington Township's nine communities to assist Mrs. Duffey in building a volunteer army to do the biggest job ever this year. A list of these various chairmen will be published soon in the local papers.

Public spirited citizens interested in doing volunteer work for the 1954 United Crusade drive in Washington Township may contact Mrs. Duffey at Niles 7641 or Centerville 8-8365.

Irvington Fire Auxiliary To Hold Pastry Sale

Irvington Fire Department Auxiliary will hold a pastry sale at the Leal building in Irvington on September 3.

On August 29, Mrs. A. E. Alameda, chairman of the Camp Parks committee will go to Camp Parks with other members.

Two-and-one-half tons of clothes have been collected so far in the Korean clothing drive and many more items are needed especially warm clothing. Mrs. Wayne Day, chairman, asks that donors call her at Centerville 8-8774, or at Irvington Cleaners.

MRS. S. E. RUNCKEL, WIDOW OF EDITOR, DIES IN BERKELEY

Funeral services were held Thursday for Mrs. Sophia E. Runckel of Berkeley, widow of the late Christian Runckel, former publisher of the Township Register, who fathered the Alameda County Water District.

Mrs. Runckel was 78. Her husband died in 1939. Surviving is a son, Christian Jr., of Palo Alto, and two daughters in Southern California.

Runckel helped form the water district here in 1914 after a long fight in his paper against the Spring Valley Water Co., which he claimed was taking water which rightfully belonged to Township residents. He served as secretary of the district until his death. He sold the weekly newspaper several years before he died.

He taught school in Decoto and Pleasanton in the early years of the century following a classroom tour in Dutch Flat, Placer County, where one of his pupils later became his wife.

Like her late husband, Mrs. Runckel was a native of Dutch Flat. The couple had lived in Berkeley and Southern Alameda County for many years.

She was a member of the Centerville Orient chapter, Order of the Eastern Star.

Gordon Cotton Weds Miss Dorothy Conover

In a quiet ceremony performed by Dr. M. L. Kemper, a friend of the bride, at the Presbyterian Church in Salinas, Miss Dorothy Beatrice Conover of Walnut Creek was wed to Gordon Cotton, Newark builder and civic leader.

Following the ceremony, which took place on Friday, July 30, the happy couple continued on to Mexico for a two week honeymoon in Mexico City and Acapulco. Their marriage culminated a friendship of many years.

The justweds returned to make their home in the Cotton residence at 1210 Wells Avenue, Newark.

Friends of the newlyweds have arranged an open house reception, starting 7:00 p.m., Friday, August 20, at 1210 Wells Avenue, and all friends of bride and groom are invited to attend.

Help Warm House

CONTRACT CITY? BOROUGH CITY?

Of interest to every Township resident is the discussion started several weeks ago on the possibilities of (1) cityhood, either for town or Township, on the contract plan; and (2) the "borough" type of city, adapted for two or more local towns.

Most of us agree it would be fine to live under our own government, but two things have held us back. Washington Township still contains such vast uninhabited spaces that it would be very costly to incorporate it all. And the fact that taxes — already high — would rise higher under a conventional type of city government also is a deterrent.

However we recently learned here about two experiments in cityhood, one or both of which might be applied to crack the double problems.

Several communities, such as Los Altos, are taking their first steps as a city the careful way — getting their toes wet, as it were, until they can support the entire expense of city government. They do this by contracting with the county, or with private industry, for such services as police protection and street work; and by retaining existing districts such as sewer and fire-protection. Thus they have been able to hold taxes to a minimum, at the same time getting the advantages of home rule.

And in the City of Toronto, Canada, several suburbs joined in a "borough" system, each retaining certain powers, and delegating others which can be handled more efficiently by the central city.

The Ashland area, including Castro Valley, Washington Manor and several other towns, is considering this "borough" system.

Putting the mind in free-wheeling for a moment, let's think what this could mean in Washington Township:

Using the borough system, Niles and Centerville (for instance) could become a city, retaining the identity of each, and leaving the door open for other towns as "boroughs" when they felt like it.

Using the "contract" system, the "borough city" could get by without hiring much in the way of employees. At the same time, it could qualify for tens of thousands of dollars in State taxes — license, gasoline and auto fees — which automatically fall to each incorporated city.

And most important of all, the "borough city" could control its own destiny, show the way to self-government for this whole wonderful area.

Think it over!

PUBLIC PINCURLERS

We take sides this week with the fearless colonel in Occupied Germany who issued an edict against Army wives and daughters wearing scanty or slovenly attire in public.

Outlawed, according to report, were: halter sunsuits, bare midriff costumes, shorts and blue-jeans on "mature females", and pincurlers. The outcry, as one might expect, was immediate and fierce, but the colonel, a veteran of countless skirmishes, held his ground.

In our opinion, the good man had an excellent point: American prestige abroad is lowered by unattractive and lazy displays. One has only to glance at foreign cartoons to realize how a fat grandma in shorts and pincurls looks to a European, friend or foe.

To carry the issue closer to home, maybe some sort of law ought to be passed to keep such sights off the streets in THIS country. Marilyn DiMaggio can get by with it, but there's only one of Marilyn, more's the pity.

Congratulations are in order this month for Mrs. Morris Brewer, Mrs. E. H. Hirsch and Mrs. Sam Vandervort of Niles. Have many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Elizabeth Corbett of Modesto visited with Mrs. M. McKeon and Billy over the weekend.

Weibel Wines Win At State Judging

Weibel Vineyards of Mission San Jose won two awards at the wine judging, now in progress at the California State Fair in Sacramento.

The local vintners walked off with a silver medal in the experimental division for an entry of California Sparkling Malvasia, and a bronze medal in the champagne division for its Chateau du Chevalier California bulk process pink champagne.

Day's In A Whirl?

Try Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks

These four layer stacks hold salmon and egg salad fillings and a surprise spread—avocado-cottage cheese.

Go around in circles—but go around in the right way. Make a big tray of Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks. Just right for informal meals are four-layer sandwiches, each serving almost a complete meal.

These Stacks can be made ahead of time, covered loosely with waxed paper and held in the refrigerator until needed a few hours later. To make: prepare your favorite salad fillings—tasty salmon and egg salads. The third filling holds the surprise—a smooth avocado and cottage cheese spread. For this spread, combine 1/2 cup mashed avocado with 1/2 cup cottage cheese and season to taste with salt, celery salt, lemon juice, and Worcestershire sauce.

Spread these fillings on alternate slices of buttered enriched and whole wheat bread. Stack four layers high and cover tops with smooth cream cheese icing, trim crusts and cut diagonally. Arrange triangles in a circle. As a finishing touch to this jiffy summer sandwich entree, feature a slice of stuffed olive or a glistening emerald pickle fan atop each section.

Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks
8 slices enriched bread
8 slices whole wheat bread
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1/2 cup salmon salad filling
1/2 cup avocado-cottage cheese filling
3/4 cup egg salad filling
1 1/2 (3-ounce) packages cream cheese
3 tablespoons milk
4 sweet pickles
1 stuffed olive

Spread bread with butter. Cover 4 slices enriched bread with 3 tablespoons salmon salad and a slice of whole wheat bread. Spread 3 tablespoons avocado-cottage cheese filling over whole wheat bread and top with a slice of enriched bread. Spread 3 tablespoons egg salad filling over enriched bread and top with a slice of whole wheat bread. Combine cream cheese and milk and spread over top of each sandwich stack. Trim off crusts. Cut each stack in two, on the diagonal. Garnish top with a pickle fan or slice of stuffed olive. Arrange triangles on a platter to form a pinwheel pattern.

YIELD: 8 Pinwheel Sandwich Stacks.

I felt I was standing in a hole recently until I discovered my Niles friend (who is tall any way) had on some new high-heeled platform shoes that made her four inches taller.

Speaking of shoes, the salesman who remarked of the shoes I was buying that "Stout ladies usually like these," almost lost a sale. (He apologized.)

After making a special trip over to see San Francisco's planetarium with the family, the sight of all those stars was too much for a Centerville man. He slept through the show.

I had to laugh at the Decoto lady who said she was glad her dog didn't know Spanish. She was sure he'd be shocked at the way a neighbor regularly "cusses-out" her pet in the foreign language.

A Centerville housewife suggests you try soaking feed sacks in kerosene to remove the printing. Then wash thoroughly.

After all these years of sewing I was surprised to find out that mercerized thread is not as strong as ordinary thread.

She's sure it's a weed, says an Irvington woman, if it's bigger and healthier than the plants near-by.

Tired of boiled squash? Dip in crumbs and beaten egg, then fry. It's good!

Ever wonder when Centerville and Irvington will see that signs indicating the direction to take to get to their towns are placed at the end of the freeway?

I now keep my hats in individual plastic bags and no longer have any trouble locating a dust-free bonnet on Sunday morning.

So long...

DECOTO NEWS

By GRACE CAMINADA

Returning from a week's vacation at Yosemite were Edith and Tony Bettencourt. Their grandchild Jeanie helped them spend another week's vacation here and there.

Rinaldo and Grace Caminda and children spent four days at Edelweiss ranch resort at Boulder Creek and all returned with a nice tan.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Delgado and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Garcia and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Shortie Garcia and children, Celia Garcia, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seane and sons all of Decoto and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bettencourt and children of Centerville started a lovely day on Sunday with breakfast and fishing at Martin's Beach.

A surprise birthday party was given to Mrs. Fred Sanchez at her home by her children last Friday evening. More than 25 friends and relatives made up the party.

SEWER DISTRICTS' MERGER HEARING

Public hearing on the proposed consolidation of the Decoto and Union Sanitary Districts will be held September 1 at 7:30 p.m. in the Union District's office, it was announced today.

Petitions for the merger were received and approved by Union Sanitary District directors and Decoto District directors last week.

If the merger is approved, the expanded district will be governed by a 10-member board of directors from both districts. They will serve until an election in 1956 selects a five-man board from the enlarged district.

Meantime, there were no additional filings for director posts. Thus Union Sanitary incumbents George A. Coit, S. G. Scott and George Burr will be automatically returned to office.

Bids on the installation of sewage lines in the 5000-acre Alviso Annex were opened at the August 18 meeting.

Irvington Revival

The Irvington Assembly of God will hold a revival from August 22 to 29 at 7:45 p.m. nightly except Monday and Saturday. Rev. Henry C. Vancil will be speaker.

How to stop extra wear on gears

stands the extreme pressures that develop in spiral bevel and hypoid gears. A special compound in the lubricant reacts chemically to form a lubricating, wear-resisting coating on the gear teeth.

RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant stands up in high operating temperatures and is oxidation resistant. It contains an anti-foaming agent that helps control expansion and prevent leakage. Ask us about RPM Multi-Service Gear Lubricant.
